

Cristian Gutierrez

Title: Refraction problems, a numerical algorithm and applications

Abstract: I will describe problems relative to the design of lenses refracting radiation with prescribed energy conditions.

An iterative algorithm for the actual calculation of the lenses and applications to imaging will be shown. In addition, I will outline further problems and connections.