Oblique projections, positive operators and applications.

Gustavo Corach

Facultad de Ingeniería, Universidad de Buenos Aires

Oblique projections are becoming a frequently used tool in problems of signal processing, parallel computation and control theory, to mention only a few areas. In this talk we survey some recent results on oblique projections which are applied to frame theory